

Read Your Lips

The shape of your print says more than you might think. We had certified lipsologist (yeah, that's a thing) Anna Snodgrass decipher what each one means.

Triangle

If your print has three distinct points (they can be rounded), chances are, you like to help others succeed and are good at helping friends shine—just like a great teacher or coach.

Rectangle/Square

If your mark is boxy, your BFFs might look to you to solve their problems... and for good reason. You're a down-to-earth and practical person.

Wavy

If your top and bottom lips look wavy, you are most likely creative and like to think outside the box. In all relationships, it's important for you to find people who "get" you.

Diamond

If there's a point at the top, bottom, and sides of your pucker, your sparkly personality attracts people. It's likely you roll with a big crew and tend to be besties with everyone. Giving back is a priority.

Oval/Round

If there are no corners on your mouth's mark, you are probably the diplomat of your squad and try to understand other points of view. You care about things running smoothly and like to encourage others.
